Information for mid-level faculty members

The mid-level faculty members at the Institute of Physics organize themselves in a group to exchange useful information and discuss topics of interest. Group members have finished their PhD and are not yet full-term professors. Thus, members are postdocs, everyone doing her/his habilitation, postdocs with habilitation, junior group leaders, associated professors, and so on, who are employed at and/or teaching at and/or related to the Institute of Physics.

Regular meetings for group members are twice per semester: in the beginning and at the end of a lecture term. Usual dates are before the first and last Physics colloquium. The topics to be discussed during the meetings are set shortly ahead each meeting.

The group is managed via a mailing list: mid-level-list@physik.uni-freiburg.de
If you belong to the group of mid-level faculty members, please subscribe to the list, at least to keep our list up-to-date.
Subscription is possible by sending an email from the email account you want to subscribe to the address mid-level-list-subscribe@physik.uni-freiburg.de
